

Pianist Martin Dubé studied piano and chamber music with Michel Franck and Robert Weisz at Laval University before pursuing a master's degree at McGill University with Marina Mdivani. His interest in vocal music brought him to New York City to study vocal accompanying with Warren Jones at the Manhattan School of Music.

Mr. Dubé has served on the Faculties of the Curtis Institute of Music, the Juilliard School (associate coach), McGill University, Université de Montreal and is currently accompanist and vocal coach at the Québec Conservatory of Music. He is an official accompanist for the Montreal International Competition and a visiting coach at the Atelier d'opéra de Montréal. He has been working for the School of Music Voice Program at Chautauqua for 21 years.